

He leaves to cherish his memory: one sister, Mrs. Fannie Moore, Charleston, South Carolina; one aunt, Mrs. Carry Middleton, Charleston, South Carolina; a stepson, Murray Davis and his wife Delores, Bronx, New York and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends who loved him dearly.

I'd like the memory of me
To be a happy one
I'd like to leave an afterglow
Of smiles when life is done
I'd like to leave an echo
Whispering softly down the way
Oh happy times and laughing times
And bright and sunny days
I'd like the tears of those who grieve
To dry before the sun
Of memories that I leave
When life is done.

In Sorrow,
The Family

The Obituary

"A new day is dawning
In that far land above,
Where our dear loved one lives
Within the sunlight of God's love"

Samuel Timothy (Sonny) Deas, son of the late Jake and Elise Deas was born on February 28, 1915 in Charleston, South Carolina. He received his formal education in the Public Schools of Charleston and continued his education in New York City.

Samuel served in the Military in World War II, and received an Honorable Discharge in 1946.

He was employed at Sydenham Hospital as a Respiratory Therapist until his retirement in 1978. At Sydenham, he was affectionately known as "Doc" because of his kindness and concern for others.

"Sonny" as he was affectionately called by family and friends, was a "happy-go-lucky", spirited person who enjoyed life. He had a smile and a kind word for everyone he came in contact with.

He had a passion for music and composed many songs, of which several were copyrighted. He also had a love for poetry and on occasion he wrote poems to family members in times of distress.

Samuel was an active member of Solomon Temple Baptist Church where he served on the Senior Usher Board.

Samuel married the late Louise Davis Deas in 1965. They were happily married until her death in 1978.

Samuel departed this life Monday, November 30, 1992 in Jacobi Hospital, Bronx, New York.
