

Angels Came

On the last Monday
of the first month of 2013,
the angels came for Rosie.
They came quietly and swiftly.
We were not ready,
but Rosie was.
What is left is the celebration of a life of strong teaching and strong love.
The world was always a wonderful place with Rosie,
but the angels needed her,
so they came.

The Obituary

Mrs. Rosalee Morrison

Mrs. Rosalee Morrison, beloved wife, nurturing, doting, and loving mother, grandmother, great grandmother, sister, and friend was called home on Monday, January 28, 2013.

Born to William and Mamie Smith on February 23, 1931 on Wadmalaw Island, South Carolina, Rosalee was the fifth of eleven children to this union. She spent her formative years in South Carolina then moved to New York as a young adult. Her oldest child, Carolyn (Ben) McClair was raised by her supportive grandparents and remained in South Carolina.

On July 17, 1948 she married the love of her life Harold Morrison. To this union, seven children were born: Marguerite (Cliff) Banks, Patricia (Jerry) Epps, Harold (Deborah) Morrison Jr., Lucinda (Paul) Blackwell, Lorraine (Glenn) Richardson, Cynthia (Orlando) Morrison-Lee, and William (Takeesha) Morrison. Harold and Rosalee were married for 63 wonderful years.

In 1970, Rosalee began her career as a head cook for the Frank D. Whalen Child Development Center. She spent 23 years cooking nutritious, delicious meals for hundreds of lucky preschoolers. She also worked as a cook for the Community Resource Center For The Developmentally Disabled.

Rosalee was a sweet and very caring woman who was dearly loved by her family and friends. Her grand and great-grandchildren adored their "Mimi." She was their trusted confidante, advisor, and friend.

Rosalee and Harold moved to Atlanta, Georgia in 1996 to be closer to their children and grandchildren. Rosalee instilled strong family values which taught them to always love and embrace each other. She will live in their hearts forever.

Rosalee is also survived by: her brother Charles Smith; three sisters-in-law, Rose Smith, Geneva Smith, and Lisa Morrison; special friend, Lynn Balkcom; and a host of other relatives and many dear friends.
