The Lord is Our Shepherd

The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou anointest my head with oil; My cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

The time has come for your return to peace, joy and purity. You are going home. You have left behind a wealth of memories and gifts--your gentle smile, warm eyes, and abundantly joyous spirit has made our lives richer.

The excitement you felt and the light you exuded when you had the chance to love or to give--it was simply your way, yet a most exceptional way of life. We love and thank you.

Nettie Sue Rich

Born Nettie Sue Titus on October 2, 1920, in Fairfield, Texas, to Walter Titus Jr. and Fannie Cora Reese, she married Robert Gordon Rich.

Nettie Sue spent most of her youth in Ardmore with her mother. After graduating from high school, she completed beauty college and began her work-life as a beautician. During the last phase of her work-life she was a maid in the hotel industry, a job in which she took great pride. After retirement she devoted much of her life to community improvement and charity work. She valued her years as a Salvationist serving the ministries of the Salvation Army, deriving much pleasure as a bell ringer helping raise money for those in need.

Nettie Sue will perhaps be best remembered for her easy smile and sharing her love with family, friends and community.

In 1996, a stroke left Nettie Sue paralyzed and in frail health. Since that time she was confined to a nursing facility.

She is survived by her daughter, Frances Jo Wilkins; sons, Odis Rich and Jerry W. Whitlow; grandson, Anthony J. Smith; granddaughters, Keisha M. Evans and Lauren N. Rich; and great-grandsons, Adairus J. Smith, Preston D. Dunlap and Desmond T. Dunlap.
